

Best Hiking and Biking Trails in Park City, Utah

Looking for top hiking and biking trails adjacent to choice properties like Lift Complex and Snow Flower? This checklist has incredible trails for any skill level!

Park City Trails Great for a Day Hike:

- Bloods Lake and Lake Lackawaxen Trail:
Quick 2.8-mile hike provides views, access to two lakes, and ample swimming and picnic opportunities.
- Silver Lake to Bald Mountain:
Serene 4.7-mile trail that is gorgeous spring through fall. Native flowers abound in the summer months, and during fall, aspens are aglow with gold leaves.

Top Trails for Spectacular Landscapes:

- Jenni's Trail:
Moderate trail that climbs 1,300 feet to reveal alpine views. The 5.1-mile hike starts at Park City Mountain Resort and is excellent for families.
- Fantasy Ridge:
Ascend to Canyon Resort's highest peak on this strenuous hike. Enjoy bird's eye views of Park City and the Uinta Mountains.

Best Park City Bike Trails for a Leisurely Ride:

- The Historic Union Pacific Rail Trail:
28 miles of flat trail traversing through wetlands, urban neighborhoods, and ending at Echo Reservoir.
- Porcuclimb-Downward Dog Loop:
Stunning 7-mile loop through Round Valley. Expect expansive fields, wildflower meadows, and panoramic views.
- McLeod Creek Trail:
Cruise past McPolin Farm, interactive art displays, and more on this 4-mile paved trail towards Kimball Junction.
- Trailside Loop:
One-mile trail perfect for a quick ride and ideal for first-time mountain bikers. Ride through sage-brush on a slightly graded, grooved track.
- RTS:
Located at the Olympic Parkway, this 2.5-mile loop boasts aspens and dazzling meadows. With easy switchbacks, this trail is great for beginners to gain experience.

Epic Trails for Experienced Riders:

- The Crest Trail:
Black Diamond-rated trail with 25 miles of intense, singletrack riding. Catch glimpses of lakes, canyon views, and 360 views at the summit.
- Wasatch Over Wasatch:
Exciting ride with plenty of small jumps, evergreen landscapes, and steady descent with over 10 miles of total downward trail.
- Flagstaff Loop to Tidal Waves:
Flagstaff Loop offers plenty of steep climbs, downhill action, and mountain views. Finish off the run at Tidal Waves for gap jumps and banked turns.